

United Arab Emirates University
College of Business and Economics
Business Administration department

Job title:

Assistant/Associate Professor in Supply Chain Management and Logistics

Job description:

The United Arab Emirates University (UAEU) invites applications for a faculty position in supply chain management and logistics within the College of Business and Economics (CBE) for Spring 2016. The CBE has been accredited by AACSB since 2000. English is the language of instruction and communication within the CBE. Candidates are expected to have:

- a strong commitment to teaching excellence and student advising at the undergraduate and graduate levels;
- a demonstrable research capability that will enable the candidate to develop and sustain an internally and/or externally funded research program in his/her area of expertise that will result in publishing his/her research findings in refereed journals;
- the ability to actively engage in promoting the growth of the Business Administration program and College of Business and Economics (CBE) at the UAEU.

Minimum qualifications:

Applicants must have a PhD or a doctorate degree in supply chain management, logistics, operations management, or in a related field, preferably from an AACSB-accredited school. Candidates should also have research experience in the area of supply chain management and logistics and the ability to teach undergraduate and graduate supply chain management and logistics courses.

Preferred qualifications:

Research and industry experience in supply chain management, procurement, and/or logistics management.

Skills/rank/experience:

Qualified candidates at all levels will be considered at a rank commensurate with academic accomplishments. Candidates must be active researchers and have a strong record of scholarly excellence. Applicants should have a Ph.D. or a doctorate (granted or nearly completed), a thorough knowledge of supply chain theory and practice, strong analytical skills, and a commitment to applied research. Faculty members are expected to advise students; provide service to the university, college, department, and community; and conduct research and publish in their fields.

Package:

A generous benefits package is offered to successful applicants, which includes a competitive tax-free salary that is determined according to rank and experience, yearly round-trip air tickets for the faculty member and his/her family (spouse and up to three children), tuition support for children's schooling, a one-time settling-in allowance, free housing accommodation, free health care insurance, paid holidays and summer vacation, and an end-of-contract gratuity. The University also offers an engaging research environment and provides opportunities for financial support for research. Research funding can also be sought from national foundations in the UAE.

Application:

The application package should include (1) a cover letter, (2) a detailed resume, (3) names of at least three references with their contact information, (4) a research statement, and (5) a teaching statement that includes a list of courses taught. To apply, visit UAEU's website <https://jobs.uaeu.ac.ae> and attach all the required documents to the website. Please send the same application package to the department chair Dr. Younes Hamdouch (younes.hamdouch@uaeu.ac.ae).
