

Dutch Day on Optimization 2025

Call for Contributed Talks

Dear all,

On November 13th, the Dutch Day on Optimization 2025 will take place in Tilburg, a yearly event bringing together the Dutch optimization community. The day will feature longer invited talks as well as 7 contributed talks, each lasting 15 minutes including questions. The full day is plenary, so each talk will reach the entire audience. This is a great opportunity to showcase your work to a national audience.

Contributed talks are open to PhD students and postdocs, although assistant professors may also apply. Priority will be given to PhD students and postdocs. We welcome topics from the complete OR spectrum, varying from theoretical to applied work.

If you are interested in giving a contributed talk, please send a title and an abstract (plain text, LaTeX code is permitted) to m.h.h.schootuiterkamp@tilburguniversity.edu by September 30. If we receive more applications than available places, a selection will be made. Selected speakers will be informed by October 15.

Feel free to forward this call to anyone who might be interested. For more details on the event, registration, and program, see:

<https://www.tilburguniversity.edu/current/events/dutch-day-optimization2025>.

Kind regards,

Marleen Balvert
Sander Gribling
Pieter Kleer
Sven Polak
Martijn Schoot Uiterkamp